

I believe that the administration needs to promote more regulation pertaining to limiting the number of broadcast stations that can be owned by one entity. Especially now, in these times, our nation needs a diversity of informed opinions. The internet aside, most still get the bulk of their news and opinions from the broadcast media.